INLET RESOURCES LTD.

NOTES TO INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

March 31, 2008

(Expressed in Canadian Dollars)

1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS AND GOING CONCERN

Inlet Resources Ltd. ("the Company") carries out its business activities exclusively in Canada, and is engaged in the acquisition, exploration, development and subsequent production relating to mineral properties. The Company is incorporated in British Columbia, Canada.

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") applicable to a going concern which assume that the Company will realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has incurred losses since inception of $14,037,923, and the Company will need additional funds to continue to explore and, if exploration is successful, to develop its property. These factors create substantial doubt as to the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern unless sufficient funds are raised for ongoing operations. The Company intends to raise funds by private placements. Realization values may be substantially different from the carrying values as shown in these financial statements should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a) Financial Instruments – Change in Accounting Policies

Effective January 1, 2007, the Company has adopted three new accounting standards related to financial instruments that were issued by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA") in 2005. These accounting policy changes were adopted on a prospective basis with no restatement of prior period financial statements. The new standards and accounting policy changes are as follows:

Financial Instruments – Recognition and Measurement (CICA Handbook Section 3855)

In accordance with this new standard, the Company now classifies all financial instruments as either held-to-maturity, available-for-sale, held for trading or loans and receivables. Financial assets held to maturity, loans and receivables and financial liabilities other than those held for trading, are measured at amortized cost. Available-for-sale instruments are measured at fair value with unrealized gains and losses recognized in other comprehensive income. Instruments classified as held for trading are measured at fair value with unrealized gains and losses recognized on the statement of loss.

(Expressed in Canadian Dollars)

a) Financial Instruments – Change in Accounting Policies (Continued)

Comprehensive Income (CICA Handbook Section 1530)

The standard introduces the concept of comprehensive loss, which consists of net loss and other comprehensive income. The Company's financial statements now include a Statement of Comprehensive Loss integrated with the statement of operations, which includes the components of comprehensive income. For the Company, other comprehensive income ("OCI") is comprised of the unrealized losses on available-for-sale financial assets arising during the period.

Cumulated changes in OCI are included in Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income ("AOCI"), which is presented as a new category within shareholders' equity on the balance sheet.

Hedges (CICA Handbook Section 3865)

The new standard specifies the criteria under which hedge accounting can be applied and how hedge accounting can be executed. The Company has not designated any hedging relationships.

b) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and short term deposits with maturities of 90 days or less when acquired. The Company did not have cash equivalents as of March 31, 2008.

c) Marketable Securities

The marketable securities were quoted and recorded at lower of market and cost on and before December 31, 2006. From January 1, 2007, the Company adopted the new financial instrument standards (CICA Section 3855 and Section 1530) and classifies its marketable securities as "available for sale" and records the marketable securities at their fair values.

c) Equipment

Equipment and furniture are carried at cost and are amortized over their estimated useful lives of five years on a straight-line basis.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

e) Mineral Property Interests and Deferred Exploration Costs

Costs and Amortization

Mineral properties, including options to mineral claims, are stated at cost. The recorded cost of mineral properties and exploration and development interests is based on cash paid and the value, if any, of share considerations given for mineral properties and exploration and development costs incurred.

All direct and indirect costs relating to the acquisition of mineral properties are capitalized until the properties to which they relate are placed into production, sold or when management has determined that there is an impairment in the carrying values of those mineral properties.

The Company defers expenditures directly attributable to the exploration of mineral properties, pending a decision as to the commercial viability of a property. When the Company loses or abandons title on its interest in the property, the accumulated expenditures on such property are charged to operations. If any property reaches commercial production, the applicable costs of the mineral property and the deferred exploration and development expenditures will be amortized against related production revenues on the unit of production method, based on the property's estimated reserves.

Values

Based on the information available to date, the Company has not yet determined whether the mineral property it is exploring contains economically recoverable reserves. The recoverability of the amounts capitalized as mineral property and deferred exploration costs is dependent upon the confirmation of economically recoverable reserves, the ability of the Company to obtain necessary financing to successfully complete its exploration and development program and upon future profitable production.

The amounts shown for mineral properties and deferred exploration expenses represent costs incurred to date, and do not necessarily represent present or future values as they are entirely dependent upon various factors as noted above.

Cost of Maintaining Mineral Properties

The Company does not accrue the estimated future costs of maintaining its mineral properties in good standing.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

f) Property Option Agreements

The Company may acquire or dispose of properties pursuant to the terms of option agreements. Due to the fact that options are exercisable entirely at the discretion of the optionee, the amounts payable or receivable are not recorded; option payments are recorded as resource property costs or recoveries when the payments are made or received.

g) Environmental Issues

The Company is not aware of any environmental studies made and of any present or past obligations.

The operations of the company may in the future be affected from time to time to varying degree by changes in environmental regulations, including those for future removal and site restoration costs. Both the likelihood of new regulations and their overall effect upon the company vary greatly and are not predictable. The company's policy is to meet or, if possible, surpass standards set by relevant legislation, by application of technically proven and economically feasible measures.

h) Long-Lived Assets Impairment

Long-lived assets are reviewed whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that carrying value of an asset may not be recoverable. An impairment loss would be recognized when the carrying amount of an asset exceeds the estimated undiscounted future cash flow expected to result from the use of the asset and its eventual disposition. The amount of the impairment loss to be recorded is calculated by the excess of the asset's carrying value over its fair value. Fair value is generally determined using a discounted cash flow analysis.

i) Asset Retirement Obligations

The Company follows CICA Handbook Section 3110 – "Asset Retirement Obligations". Under this standard, future obligations to retire an asset including dismantling, remediation and ongoing treatment and monitoring of the site are initially recognized and recorded as a liability at fair value, assuming a credit adjusted risk-free discount rate and an inflation factor. The liability is adjusted for changes in the expected amounts and timing of cash flows required to discharge the liability and accreted to full value over time through periodic charges to earnings. The amount of the asset retirement liability initially recognized is capitalized as part of the asset's carrying value and amortized over the asset's estimated useful life.

INLET RESOURCES LTD.

NOTES TO INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

March 31, 2008

(Expressed in Canadian Dollars)

i) Asset Retirement Obligations (Continued)

Under the standard, future asset retirement obligations are only recorded when the timing or amount of remediation costs can be reasonably estimated.

j) Stock Option Plan

The Company grants stock options under a fixed stock option plan in accordance with the TSX Venture Exchange policies. Canadian generally accepted accounting principles require the fair value of all share purchase options to be expensed over their vesting period with a corresponding increase to contributed surplus. Upon exercise of share purchase options, the consideration paid by the option holder, together with the amount previously recognized in contributed surplus, is recorded as an increase to share capital. The Company uses the Black-Scholes option valuation model to calculate the fair value of share purchase options at the date of the grant. Option pricing models require the input of highly subjective assumptions, including the expected price volatility. Changes in these assumptions can materially affect the fair value estimate and, therefore, do not necessarily provide a reliable single measure of the fair value of the Company's share purchase options.

k) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant areas where management's judgment is applied include asset and investment valuations, equipment lives, contingent liabilities, tax provisions and future income tax balances, asset retirement obligations and other accrued liabilities. These estimates are reviewed periodically, and, as adjustments become necessary, they are reported in earnings in the period in which they become known. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

NOTES TO INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(Expressed in Canadian Dollars)

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

l) Loss Per Common Share

Basic loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year. The diluted loss per share reflects the potential dilution of common share equivalents, such as outstanding stock options and share purchase warrants, in the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year, if dilutive. The "treasury stock method" is used for the assumed proceeds upon the exercise of the stock options and warrants that are used to purchase common shares at the average market price during the period. During the three months ended March 31, 2008 and 2007, all of the outstanding stock options and warrants were anti-dilutive.

m) Foreign Currency

Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Canadian dollars, using the temporal method. A summary of this method is as follows:

- Monetary assets and liabilities are translated at the rate of exchange in effect at the balance sheet date;
- Non-monetary assets and liabilities are translated at the rate prevailing when the transaction occurred;
- Revenue, general and administration expenses, and gains and losses are translated at the average exchange rate in effect during the period;
- Exchange gains or losses from conversion are included in the current statement of loss;
- Depreciation or amortization of assets translated at historical exchange rates are translated at the same exchange rates as the assets to which they relate.

n) Flow-Through Financing

The Company has financed a portion of its exploration activities through the issue of flow-through shares which transfer the tax deductibility of exploration expenditures to the investor. Proceeds received on the issue of such shares have been credited to share capital and the related exploration costs have been charged to mineral property deferred exploration costs. When transferring the tax deductibility of exploration expenditures to the investor (renunciation), future income tax recovery income has been recognized and share capital has been reduced accordingly.

INLET RESOURCES LTD.

NOTES TO INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

March 31, 2008

(Expressed in Canadian Dollars)

3. NEW ACCOUNTING POLICIES NOT YET ADOPTED

The CICA issued a new accounting standard, Section 1535, Capital Disclosures, which requires the disclosure of both qualitative and quantitative information that provides users of financial statements with information to evaluate the entity's objectives, policies and processes for managing capital. This new section is effective beginning January 1, 2008. The Company does not expect the impact of the adoption of this new section on the financial statements to be significant.

	$ 578,400	$ 788,600

As at March 31, 2008, the Company had available for sale securities including 3,160,000 common share of Goldbrook Ventures Inc. ("Goldbrook"), a public company related by virtue of a common director and common officer, and 60,000 common shares of RPT Uranium Corp. (formerly Rampart Ventures Ltd.).

Pursuant to the new financial instrument standards (CICA Section 3855 and Section 1530), the Company classifies its marketable securities as "available for sale" and records the marketable securities at their fair values. The fair values are determined by using the close market prices of the last day of the period. At the same time, the unrealized gain or loss from change of fair value of the marketable securities are recognized as "other comprehensive income".

The Company is exposed to liquidity risk which is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in selling all of these common shares at an amount at least equivalent to its cost.
